

Call for Applications

New Board Members (2026-2029) of the IAQVEC Association

The IAQVEC Association (Indoor Air Quality, Ventilation and Energy Conservation in Buildings) invites applications and nominations for new members of its Board of Directors.

IAQVEC is an international scientific association established in 2016 to promote research and professional exchange in the fields of indoor environmental quality (IEQ), ventilation, and energy conservation in buildings. The IAQVEC Conference Series, first held in Montreal in 1992, has since been organized in various regions of the world, most recently in Tokyo in 2023, with the next conference scheduled to take place in Los Angeles in 2026. In addition to organizing the IAQVEC conferences, the Association conducts seminars and summer schools, and publishes newsletters and journals to advance knowledge and collaboration in these research areas. Further details of IAQVEC activities can be found on the Association's website .

<http://iaqvecassociation.org/index.html>

The IAQVEC Association is currently seeking new Board Members for 2026-2029 who share the Association's vision and are willing to actively contribute to its activities and future development.

Application Requirements

Applicants are requested to submit the following document by email:

- One-page Curriculum Vitae, including up to five key publications

Submission Deadline

- 1 February 2026

Submission Address

- Email: ooka@iis.u-tokyo.ac.jp

All applicants will be considered through a fair review process, taking into account academic and professional achievements, research fields, geographical balance, gender diversity, and other relevant factors. Candidates who are nominated will be contacted directly by the current Board of Directors.

We warmly encourage applications from qualified researchers and professionals worldwide and look forward to welcoming new members to the IAQVEC Board.

Ryoza Ooka, Ph.D.

President, IAQVEC Association